To Whom It May Concern:

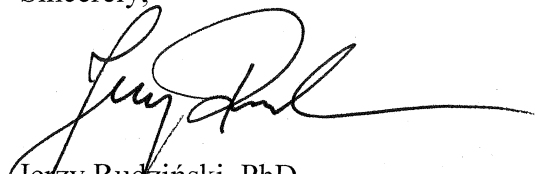

FQS Poland would like to express our support and interests in FuturICT project deliverables.

FQS Poland is an R&D center of Fujitsu Kyushu Systems Ltd. We provide business intelligence products and professional services supporting mainly pharmaceutical and financial institutions. Our interest is mainly data mining and data analysis technologies to process large volume of data and find hidden value in them.

Our expertise is anti-money laundering, fraud detection, and human relationships analysis and event prediction. These, in general, are tightly coupled with the area of interest of FuturICT project. We believe that social networks analysis might become important aspect of future detection of fraudulent transactions and suspicious people's activities and the market will show a growing interest in this area.

Hence we are strongly interested in FuturICT research project output including our possible cooperation with project members.

Sincerely,

Jerzy Rudziński, PhD
