Commitment Letter for FuturICT

Zurich, 29. September 2012

To Whom It May Concern:

Olsen Ltd is committed to support FutureICT with human resources and by licensing software services and financial market data. In particular, we intend to license the Roots software environment and Olsen data repository. The Roots software environment is a programming, simulation and real time operations environment to run event based programs suitable for agent based modeling of financial markets, the economy and the environment at large. The data repository is an extensive database of tick by tick market data covering foreign exchange, fixed income, stock indices and commodity markets.

FutureICT will get OpenSource access to Routes; we will thereby break the paradigm of secrecy in the hedge fund and financial industry and create a unique opportunity to revolutionize the research on techno-socio-economic-environmental systems.

FuturICT is a truly outstanding project that has huge potential. We look forward to contribute to its success.

Sincerely,

Richard Olsen
